Observations...

By UDELL

Do you often wonder how to arrange your child's study in order to assure him of proper lighting? ... Don't remain in doubt, go by the Coast Electric Power Association building today and see the excellent arrangement made by Miss Loyette Webb, "Electro-Home Economist." The window display shows proper lighting arrangements for a study ...

The Episcopal church will sponsor an apron sale in front of Jitney-Jungle and C & S Food Stores Friday and Saturday September 26 and 27 ...

Henry Dupre of Dawn Buster fame, read the editorial "Daddy and His Little Girl" from the ECHO last week, over two of his programs on station WWL Wednesday ... The unknown author of this piece of work has put into words what so many parents silently plead for each day when they send their children off to school ... That drivers will be careful in the school zones and intersections and will watch for children who might run from behind parked cars ... We wish to thank Mr. Dupre for reading this editorial so that his many listeners, as well as our many readers, will drive carefully near schools ...

St. Stanislaus opened their 1952 season with a 0-0 tie with McGill Friday night ... Bay High will open its season next Friday, September 26, in Long Beach when they meet the team over there ... Here's wishing both teams a successful season ...

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club is going to appeal to the authorities in charge of keeping St. Mary's and Cedar Rest cemeteries clean ... It seems that the only time these graveyards are cleaned is around All Saints ... It shouldn't be a once-a-year matter ... They should be clean and presentable, not in their present deplorable condition, year-round ...

A general meeting of the parish of Our Lady of the Gulf will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall Wednesday, September 24, at 8:00 p. m. for the purpose of concluding arrangements for the construction of a parochial school ... at that time, the working committee will present its plans and recommendations to the parishioners for consideration ... Everyone interested is urged to attend ...

Please, Mr. Smith, how about a white line down the middle of the bridge ... It doesn't matter if it's straight or not ... Just so long as there is some marker for automobile drivers to guide themselves by ... at night it's pretty difficult trying to stay on your own side of the road while riding over that asphalt ... You might save a life with just a little paint ...

See where Pass Christian officials will have to decide if 68 aged oaks that have made their city famous are worth an expense of $40,000 to the city's tax payers ... The basic issue involved is where to locate the north lane of the new million dollar strip of U. S. Highway 90 soon to be four lanes from Glard avenue, Long Beach, to the present four-lane strip of West Beach in Pass Christian ... Seventy-five residents and nearby residents last week gathered at the City Hall to express the feelings of Pass Christian about whether to run the north lane parallel with the south lane and the seawall or to lay it along the exact route of the present scenic drive ...

They learned that the latter plan will cost them $40,000 and 65 oak trees, while the former will cost them 133 oaks but no money ... It will be interesting to note the decision of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen which will be made at a meeting September 23 ...

Contracts totaling $1,947,815 have been awarded for two new factory buildings in Mississippi ... A contract for $1,553,333 was let to M. T. Reed Construction Company of Jackson for general construction on the new Alexander Smith Carpet Plant at Greenville ... Contract for general construction work on a new wood working industry at Poplarville was let to Louis A. Gily and Con of Laurel at $269,157, with the smaller awards being let to other companies ... This is another stride toward progress in industry for the State of Mississippi ...

The double ring ceremony took place at noon before the altar arranged with palms white gladioli and candelabra. The Rev. Sidney D. Crane, Severne Park, Md., assisted by the Rev. William A. Morrison officiated at the service.

Traditional wedding music was played by Harry W. Williamson who also accompanied the soloist,

Henry M. Fessler.

The bride escorted to the altar by her father, selected a gown of ivory slipper satin designed on Victorian lines featuring a scalloped yoke of imported Alencon lace with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes embroidered in the self pattern high neckline. The full skirt was gathered on a fitted bodice that dropped to a point in the front. The skirt terminated in a full cathedral train. Her veil cascaded from a lace cap trimmed with paillettes and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and white roses entwined with baby ivy.

A cousin of the bride, Mrs. C. Malverne Eutizman, Muncy, was matron of honor. Her gown of forest green taffeta had a bertha scalloped with matching satin and full skirt with unpressed pleats with satin scalloped insertion of accordion pleating in the front. She had a matching taffeta-satin hat with a face veil and carried a cascade arrangement of Tallman roses, yellow pompons and maline background.

The bridesmaids—Mrs. Joseph D. Kimmel, Philadelphia, Mrs. John C. Schultz, city and Miss Anne C. Homan, Collingswood, N. ## VIE FOR SPOTLIGHT AT STATE FAIR; HOME TO BE GIVEN AWAY

Beautiful girls, including Miss Merle Bennett, representative from Hancock County, vying for the title of "Mississippi's Queen of the Forest" - A well arranged Forest Products Display - and a two bedroom $10,000 home will hold the forestry spotlight at the Mississippi State Fair during the week of October 6-11.

James Craig, state forestry spokesman for a sub-committee of the Mississippi Forestry and Game Association, in charge of preparing the forest products display and arranging for attractive prizes to be awarded with the two bedroom home to be given away, announced here Friday afternoon that satisfactory progress was being made. Craig said that the committee was receiving splendid support from the forest industries and allied groups who are making possible this sensational, super colossal affair.

The two bedroom dream home, "The House that Forestry Built," is already the talk of the town. To win this beautiful home and other attractive prizes of wood products manufactured here in Mississippi, any citizen of the State now residing here will only have to visit and make a study of the forestry display and fill in the registration card. "It's as simple as that," states Mr. Craig.

Drawings will be made nightly at 10:30 P. M. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and valuable articles of furniture and other wood products will be awarded to the lucky person whose card is pulled. On Friday, 12:30 noon, drawing for the Grand Prize will be made by the newly crowned Forest Queen. Here is where some happy citizen can start planning to move into a new and modern home.

Rules governing the contest, along with a plaque giving the names of parties and firms contributing to the program, will be posted over the registration booth and all registrants will be required to comply to the rules. Each person will be permitted to fill out one card only. Early registration is urged to enable registrant to participate in each drawing. Registrants will not be required to be present to win.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

by
W. F. Bond, Director of Public Welfare
State Department of Public Welfare

During the 12 months period ending June 30 of this year 1951 applications for old age assistance were rejected because the income of their relatives exceeded the state standards. During the same period 1688 old age assistance cases were closed because of relatives judged under the state standards able to take care of them. During the first month of the year 1952-53, because of the Five million dollar increase given on the Welfare Department by the last Legislature, 218 old age assistance cases were taken off the rolls on account of relatives last year have been put back on the payroll and 269 new cases have been approved because of the more liberal regulations about relatives able to help. Therefore, during the first month of the new biennium nearly 500 old people have been able to get on the old age assistance payroll because of the increased appropriation made for the Welfare program at the last session of the Legislature.

Unemployment Compensation Claims Of VRA Should be filed at State Office

Recent veterans of the armed forces, who may be eligible to file claims for unemployment compensation under the Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1952 after October 14, today were urged to visit the local office of the Mississippi State Employment Service and register for work if they are not working.

Joel P. McNinch, Manager of the Gulfport local office which is of handle claims under Title IV of the Act, covering payment of unemployment compensation, pointed out that several conditions must be met before veterans can become eligible for payments.

This compensation is payable only to veterans who are unemployed for no reason other than that they cannot obtain a suitable job. One of the first requirements is that the unemployed veteran be registered for work with the State Employment Service. Another is that he must be able to work and available for work.

Mr. McNinch also urged the unemployed veteran to visit the

1953 Junior Leadership Training Program Holds 334 Trips For 4-H Contest Winners

STARKVILLE, MISS. - Three hundred thirty-four expense-paid trips to district, state and national 4-H Club events await contest winners under the provisions of the 1953 Junior Leadership Training Program, which is sponsored jointly by United Gas and the Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service state 4-H Club Leader R. O. Monosmith announced today in outlining contest plans.

"Interest in the 1953 Junior Leadership Training Program is greater than ever before," Monosmith declared, "and we are looking forward to the best training conferences and state 4-H Club Congress since inauguration of this program."

United Gas is underwriting the cost of these awards for the sixth straight year as a part of its program to encourage the development of leadership qualities among the youth of Mississippi. In collaboration with the Extension authorities, the company has just published a folder explaining the 4-H Club Leadership Training Program and contest, copies of which may be obtained from county 4-H agents or home demonstration agents.

The 1953 Junior Leadership Program will provide trips for the most outstanding boy and girl Junior Leader in each of Mississippi's 82 counties. Contest winners in the 4-H Training Center, Ocean Springs, will be July. The winners from north Mississippi counties will attend the conference at the 4-H Training Center at Sardis Lake in early August.

One boy and one girl from each county - a total of 164 outstanding 4-H Club Leaders - will be awarded a trip to the Mississippi State College, Starkville, in June. In addition, two boys and two girls will be selected from the state-at-large to represent Mississippi Junior Leaders at the National 4-H Club Camp in Washington, D. C. in June and one boy and one girl will be awarded trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in November.

The United Gas awards also include $50 contributions to the best 4-H Club Council in each of the four extension districts. Monosmith announced. This money may be used for a library fund, purchase of recreational equipment or other needs.

The Mississippi 4-H Club Leader said winners will be selected on the basis of their leadership records by judges of the State Agricultural Extension Service staff.

The means by which Junior Leaders can demonstrate their contributions they are making towards the improvement of their respective clubs and communities have been greatly expanded by an increase in the range of individual and club projects. Monosmith asserted. "The State Agricultural Service is deeply grateful to United Gas for the sponsorship of this program which aids so materially the development of our youth as the leaders of tomorrow."

County Agent's Notes

Gardens Help Living Costs

By HOWARD SIMMONS

FALL GARDENS

It is not too late to plant a fall vegetable garden. This year, with food prices going even higher, it is doubly important to have a full garden to help beat the cost of living and to make for better diets.

Vegetables to be planted in September, if not already planted include beets, Swiss chard, Chinese cabbage, head and leaf lettuce, carrots, kale, onions, spinach, mustard, turnips, parsley, radish, rape, tendergreens and collards.

These should be planted in north Mississippi by September 15. However, if you have not planted as yet, there is still time to plant if it is done immediately.

More hardy vegetables like onions and spinach can be planted throughout the state all month. In the central and southern parts of the state, all these vegetables can be planted throughout September.

Fertilizer is important to help mature fall vegetable crops. Use three to four pounds of 5-10-5 for each 100 feet of row and work well into the soil.

Nitrates will give the vegetables a "quick push." Apply two pounds per 100 feet of row of nitrate of soda and work well into the soil. If using ammonium nitrate, use only half as much per 100 feet of row.

Other September jobs include saving of homegrown seed; treating beans and peas against weevils before storing; watering and mulching as needed; collecting barnyard manure and protecting from rain until needed; regular harvesting and continued insect control.

GRASS WORMS

Watch out for grassworms. They can destroy a young oat crop practically overnight. While these worms will ruin any of the cereal crops, they also attack permanent pastures and a strip all grazing from the pastures in a short time.

Watch, closely, grassworms do most of their damage while they are growing. When they first infest a field, they are tiny, and unless fields are closely watched, the worms will do their damage before farmers know they are there.

Get your toxaphene or DDT out of the house on hand, so that you can poison immediately when the worms appear.

Remember, grassworms are a death to young oats or wheat. It is not only your cash investment in the crop that is destroyed, but you also lose that early winter grain.

Either dust with 10 to 15 pounds to the acre of five percent DDT or 20 percent toxaphene, or spray with two pounds of toxaphene or one pound of DDT to the acre in an emulsion mixed with water.

Control, when insecticides are properly applied, is almost immediate.

CATTLE FEEDING

Even with the spread between cotton seed and cotton seed meal ranging around $20.00 a ton, it may be better to go on and trade seed for meal. Research has proved that it takes from 171 to 200 pounds of seed to equal the feed value in 100 pounds of high grade cotton and seed meal.

Too, large quantities of seed may cause cows to scour due to excessive amounts of oil.

B-W-G-C Plans Night Lecture

September 22, 23 and 24 were the dates chosen for the Flower Show School Course III, sponsored by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club.

Lectures, which are to be given at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, will start at 10:00 a. m. each morning. Examinations will be given to those taking this course for credit.

Foster B. Duggan of Wayside Farms, Yazoo City, Miss., will lecture on horticulture from 10:00 a. m. to noon Monday; Mrs. M. E. Latham of Jackson, Miss., president of the Garden Clubs of Mississippi, will lecture Monday from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. Her subject will be Flower Show Practice.

On Monday night, Mrs. Latham will speak on arrangements while she demonstrates with flower material growing in local gardens. Tuesday at 10:00 a. m. Mrs. Latham will lecture on Arrangements for Shows, Landscaping and Color, until noon. In the afternoon she will give point-scoring which will be followed by judging of a few arrangements.

The price of the entire course, including the night lecture will be

The idea that freezing nylon hose will make them last longer is a fallacy. Extension clothing experts point out.

Cattle lice do most damage to cattle during cold weather. They retard growth, reduce milk production, reduce gain of fattening animals and develop untidy animals. Your Agricultural Extension Service recommends that cattle lice be controlled before cold weather by spraying with one-half pound of 25 percent lindane to each 50 gallons of water.

Too much polish on a dust cloth is worse than no polish, point out Extension home management specialists, as it collects dust and becomes sticky and dirty.

Round worms are costly hog parasites. Your Agricultural Extension Service recommends that all pigs be wormed two to four weeks after weaning.

HOME AGENT NOTES

TIES ADD COLOR TO WARDROBES

by Miss Sarah Weaver, Home Agent

As you are thinking about what you are going to wear this winter, take a good look at Pop's tie rack. Don't you see some gay numbers that would add a touch of color to any dark cool weather dress or blouse.

Don't reach for his favorite, but see if he wouldn't like to get a few he is tired of wearing off his tie rack.

Now with this blessing, get set to make Pop's discarded tie into a scarf and bow tie for yourself. Silk, wool and crush-repellent fabrics are best. If you need a special color, buy a tie of your own.

Rip the tie open, remove the interlining of wool and cut out a section about 10 inches long at center back along straight of fabric. Restitch the seam and press open. Press out the lengthwise folds and hand hem the edges.

With a final pressing, you are ready to try your hand at some of the various ways a scarf may be used this season.

For the little bow tie, press open the piece you cut from the center back and fold wrong side out. Stitch across the ends and up the sides to within an inch of the center. Clip corners and turn right side out through the inch opening.

Slip stitch opening, press lightly and tie in a knot at center. Tack a small safety pin to the back of the knot - and you are ready to go at the neck of a blouse, dress or try it on the pocket of either.

Keeping bread fresh and mold-free is no problem to the housewife with home freezer space for it. Bread that is frozen and stored at well below freezing temperature will keep fresh about a year.

This long-keeping isn't practical, however, and it's an uneconomical use of freezer space and requires special moisture-vapor-proof wrapping.

To keep bread in your freezer a week or two, the waxed paper wrappings in which it comes is enough. Leave the bread in its wrapper until it thaws out so the moisture from the warm air will condense on the wrapper rather than on the bread.

For toasting, ready-sliced loaves needn't be thawed. Take the bread from the freezer, and put it directly into the toaster or oven.

Bread should be kept either frozen or warm to hold its freshness. Whether you and your family like your bread soft or firm will decide whether or not to keep bread in the home refrigerator. Bread in the refrigerator loses the softness that to many people means freshness. In the chill of the refrigerator, bread becomes firm and cannot be restored to its original softness.

As a help against mold in the breadbox, remember to keep this container clean, free of old scraps of bread and well aired, with occasional scalding and sunning. After you wash your breadbox, be sure it is thoroughly dry before you put bread in it.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
To reheat rolls or biscuits without lighting the oven, place them in the top of a double-boiler and heat over boiling water for about 15 minutes.

When you are making baking-powder biscuits, roll them thinner than usual, butter one biscuit and place an unbuttered one on top. Then bake. The biscuits will not only be richer, but they will taste richer, too.

Pad coat hanger ends with discarded shoulder pads. This helps keep the shape in shoulders of newly cleaned clothes that you are storing in garments bags.

Put strips of adhesive tape on the soles of new shoes to keep them from slipping.

If you have small amounts of paint left over and want to keep it for later use simply cover the paint with paraffin. This keeps the paint from drying up on the bottom of the paint can.

O P S NEWS

Operators of eating and drinking establishments in Mississippi who were entitled to certain food cost adjustments under Section 10 of the new restaurant ceiling price regulation, Robert W. May, district director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Jackson, announced this week.

The deadline prescribed in that section of the new regulation, CPH 134, has been removed, he said. This will permit operators of eating and drinking establishments affected by this limitation to apply for food cost adjustments which will enable them to recover certain food cost increases they have been absorbing.

Mr. May explained that many operators apparently were unaware of the provisions in Section 10 of the new restaurant regulation. Operators are allowed under that section to apply for ceiling price adjustments to compensate them for food costs increases occurring between the time they originally calculated their food costs under the old restaurant regulation CPH II, and the time they re-calculated them in the compliance period just prior to April 7, 1952, the effective date of CPH 134.

HOME REGULATIONS
Because home improvements may be a large item in family budgeting, the Office of Price Stabilization has studied the question of how the homemaker can get the most for his home repairing and repairing dollar. Here are three general rules to follow:

1. Try to have the work done during the off-season, which is generally the fall and winter. Contractors then can give more time to the work and there is the possibility of savings in installed costs because the company is interested in keeping its employees busy.

2. Be sure to get several estimates from reliable firms, and compare them on the basis of quality of workmanship and quality of materials.

3. Charges by contractors dealers, plumbers and electricians for installing and service charges for installing them are subject to O.P.S. ceiling price controls. If you feel there is too much variation between the estimate and the actual cost, or have any reason to feel the charge may be too high, check with the Jackson O.P.S. office.

Sellers of used automobile trucks not originally bought for resale need no longer apply for individual ceiling prices, O.P.S. announced this week.

However, officials said, the seller of such a truck may be legally charge a price higher than the ceiling price on the truck when it was new. Or, if he cannot ascertain the ceiling price when new, as would be the case if his legal ceiling prices were in effect, his legal ceiling price will be no more than he paid for the truck originally.

This action will have the seller time and effort spent in applying for ceiling prices, and it will relieve the O.P.S. of the need to issue letter orders granting ceiling prices, generally, are not expected to be affected by this action.

Ens. J. D. Creel Serves On Dace

New London, Conn.—Submarine men are normally a healthy lot, but today submariner Ens. Joseph D. Creel, USN, son of Mrs. George A. R. Creel, Rt. 1 Bay St. Louis, says he couldn't get sick if he wanted to.

The reason for this unusually healthy outlook today, he says, is because of the Armed Forces Medical Policy Council members who are his "shipmates" aboard the USS Dace.

His guests are top men from the Department of Defense. Included are Maj. Gen. George L. Armstrong, Surgeon General of the Army; Rear Admiral Clarence J. Brown, Deputy Surgeon of the Navy, and Maj. General Harry G. Armstrong, Surgeon General of the Air Force.

Pass Christian News

by MRS. JOE ALLEN

PUBLIC SCHOOL SPENDING KEEPS ALL-TIME LOW!

John Bainbridge, who has made an exhaustive study of the public school system in the United States, recently came up with a report showing that the percentage of national income spent on public elementary and secondary schools is lower now than it was in the Depression years. In 1933-34 records in the United States Office of Education show 4.3 per cent of the national income was spent on education in the public schools. In 1949-50 only 2.5 of the national income was spent on schools.

With these cold facts in mind there is small wonder that we have a teacher shortage. The answer is poor pay. Average wages for all workers has jumped 138 per cent since 1939. Teachers wages increased only 112 per cent during that period.

And now for the answer to critical shortage in class rooms: (1) During the depression years school building programs were drastically reduced. (2) Nationwide enrollment is increasing at the rate of approximately 1,000,000 new students a year! (3) Statistics reveal unprecedented increase in population during war and post-war years. (4) During the war years and later to maintain defense demands school building programs were again retarded.

The year 1957 has been earmarked as the disaster year for public schools unless the nation gets busy with the building of class rooms and adding of teachers. Allowances for replacement is estimated that 600,000 new class rooms should be built in the nation within the next five years.

Last week a local man accused the teachers of making an unnecessary trip to the "Wailing Wall." In this man's opinion, teachers in the Pass Christian schools are receiving adequate compensation for becoming educators. Expression of views like this should be questioned. Could it be that the writer is uninformed and has not learned from the National Education Association's survey that at least 150,000 new teachers are needed in the elementary schools alone. Further only 32,443 potential elementary school teachers will graduate from colleges this year. Why? Back again to that vicious circle. The answer is poor pay.

This writer believes public school ailments can best be cured by co-operative understanding to take the place of criticisms. A full understanding of the problems can best be obtained by informing the public. A community can be alerted through the services of its newspaper. A community can be informed through an informed P-T-A group. Public minded business executives serving on the school boards can do much to steer a community in the right action.

Pass Christian Public Elementary School and High School has the advantages of a good school board. It has the advantages of qualified teachers. That the Pass Christian school system is operating on a very slim budget is well known. More books are needed. More teachers are needed in the High School. More selective subjects would be welcomed. Band and other public music would be welcomed.

Dangers to the health of any school are behind-the-scenes operations, anonymous critics, and gossips. Let's bring our problems out in the open and make ways and means to work them out victoriously.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR P-T-A WORK

Mrs. Wm. B. Allen Jr., newly elected president of the Pass Christian Public Elementary and High School's first meeting of the season on Thursday evening. "I realize lots of people do not know what goes on behind the scenes," explained Mrs. Allen, "and our first program is designed to tell the study of the P-T-A manual explain the duties to be performed by the various committees."

This year's P-T-A has enlisted the aid of many newcomers. To Pass Christian and ideas found workable in other schools are under discussion for the local school. Allen, the organization's president, came to Pass Christian about two years ago from North Carolina and is popular member of the younger married set. She has spent a great deal of time in the study of the P-T-A manual and selected her committee chairman with an aim toward getting the right person for the right job. A conscientious worker fired with ambition to build a better P-T-A, Mrs. Allen is this organization's only president ever to have been elected from a nomination received from the floor and voted into the presidency over the nominating committee's delegate at the close of last year's school session. Elected to serve with Mrs. Allen are Mrs. Sam Jeffcoat, vice president who moved to Pass Christian from New Orleans last June. In New Orleans Mrs. Jeffcoat was active in the Wilson School affairs and is keenly interested in teen-age activities. Mrs. Sydney Ellis also formerly of New Orleans is the association's secretary. Last year Mrs. Ellis' children were transferred here from Lake View school. Mrs. Ellis always interested in civic affairs has kept herself well informed on school matters here and is vitally interested in bettering local school conditions.

Mrs. Allen appointed committee chairmen for the standing committees as follows: Mrs. Sheila Loker Budget and Finance; Mrs.

Joseph Ruspoli, Membership; Mrs. Johnny La Tino, Publicity; Mrs. William Kaliff, Hospitality; Mrs. Ed Lively, Refreshments; and; and Co-chairman of the Program Committee are Mrs. Milburn Boys and Mrs. Richard O. Helstand, both formerly of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Helstand, who serves as organizer in the Trinity Episcopal Church, and teaches the Youth Group in Sunday School, also heads the Youth Movement here and is well able to contribute constructively to the needs of the school community. Magazine chairman, Mrs. Elwood Abbey, New Orleans, advised, include Recreation to be headed by Mrs. Charles Atchley. Mrs. Atchley came to Pass Christian from Mexico last year and has a background which makes her especially capable to work with young people. Before studying the activities of the "Auntie" Colony, teen-age group in Mexico Mrs. Atchley was affectionately known as "Auntie Flo" in New Orleans and in Baton Rouge where she headed youth movement organizations. Mrs. Atchley has obtained the help of Mrs. Sam Jeffcoat and together they hope to work out a very active program for young people here. In the school gymnasium they hope to open a teen-age canteen and will work through the student council of the school. Definite plans have been made for a Halloween party to begin at nine o'clock in the Yacht Club and to which all teen agers regardless of school and church affiliation are invited.

A Recreation Program can do much to keep young people busy with wholesome and happy activities and will offer a wholesome outlet for energy. Still another bit of forward thinking is being advanced by this year's P-T-A. They plan to open the gymnasium once each month for the benefit of parents who would like to come for luncheon and stay to play a few games of bridge canasta, gin rummy, etc. Purpose of the luncheon activity would be to attract more parents to the school where they could become more familiar with the surroundings and better acquainted with each other. Luncheons would be simple and priced at 50c per person. This money would go into the P-T-A funds to be used as needed with school improvements or activities.

To help parents of young children, the P-T-A has established a nursery this year which is open on regular P-T-A meeting dates to children between the ages of three and ten years. No committee head has as yet been appointed for the nursery, but it is expected that an appointment will be announced by October. In the meantime competent help is available and nursery services were available at the last meeting.

This year's P-T-A has also established a Welfare Committee, headed by Mrs. Haywood Hillyer, formerly of New Orleans. Mrs. Hillyer and her co-workers will concern themselves primarily with the under-privileged school child and provide assistance with clothing, medical care, or other problems of welfare needed by students.

Improvement and Safety of Our school is alert to the problems, difficulties and impending dangers threatening the Public School System and will make every effort to inform and enlist the aid of parents in an endeavor to improve and continue the growth of the public school system here.

The Mississippi Forestry Commission tries to grow as many seedlings as possible on funds allocated by the state legislature, but this number is much less than that desired by landowners of Mississippi, Stewart said.

Unless seedling supplies are exhausted, the deadline for making applications is November 1. Any one wishing to obtain seedlings is urged to contact his area forester or any of his county agricultural representatives at the County Agent's Office in the K. C. Hall.

Forestry News

Tree seedling applications are coming in at a rapid rate, reports Jack Stewart, area forester of Hancock County. These applications will be honored on a first come, first served basis until the supply of any given species or all species is exhausted.

"Torn Lengths" on the labels of sheets refers to the over-all length of the sheet before the hems are put in.

Milk is by far the most economical source of calcium and is a relatively cheap source of good quality protein, riboflavin, and many other nutrients advise Extension foods and nutrition specialists.

Unless seedling supplies are exhausted, the deadline for making applications is November 1. Any one wishing to obtain seedlings is urged to contact his area forester or any of his county agricultural representatives at the County Agent's Office in the K. C. Hall.

WHAT THE V.F.W. MEANS TO THE OVERSEAS VETERAN

As a Veteran...

The V.F.W. is always on guard against any effort to destroy your established legal rights as an honorably discharged veteran.

These rights include your entitlement—under certain conditions—to care and treatment in government hospitals, disability compensation or pensions, government insurance, burial allowance, pensions for dependents, preference credits for civil service employment, etc. Founded in 1899, long before our major veteran organizations were formed after World War I, the V.F.W. was demanding fair treatment for the nation's disabled and needy veterans. Thus was born the basic pattern of the "G.I. Bill of Rights."

By becoming a member of the V.F.W. you help keep the organization strong enough to protect—not only the nation's disabled veterans and the widows and orphans—but also those rights which are vital to your own security.

Veterans are Good Citizens! Be a V.F.W. Member and be a Better Citizen! Join the V.F.W. Now!

Hoine Economist, and Mrs. Haas, County Welfare Department to discuss plans for a class for handicapped children of the Bay St. Louis School System. This class is to be sponsored jointly by Bay St. Louis Public School and Hancock County School system. Eighteen children have been made an in a few days a committee selected by the State Department of Education, consisting of medical doctors, psychologists, and child guidance workers will come to Bay St. Louis to complete examination of a group of children to determine which applications should be selected for the beginning class. These pupils given their regular work each day in addition to special instruction for the handicapped child. It is hoped this screening of pupils completed at an early date classes may be opened within short time. This is a wonderful step started by the Bay St. Louis who are helped and are thereby given an education. With the special classes, the teacher is able to devote more time to children which they would ordinarily receive in a classroom. Interested persons may secure additional information from Superintendent Ingram. Superintendent E. E. Brala.

The St. Joseph Academy of the Sacred Heart will sponsor their spaghetti supper at the K. K. October 29. Get your tickets now for a treat.

There should be some lights or reflectors at night. It is really dangerous when a dark street—a mobile driver can hardly see them. It is not only dangerous for the bike riders, but the other drivers. An accident could be caused by trying someone on a bike.
